

MESSAGE TO MEMBERS FROM OCMS
PRESIDENT KEVIN SHERIN, MD

Past, Present, and Future OCMS:

Did you ever hear the expression that we stand on the shoulders of great leaders who have gone before us?

Do you all know that the first African American physician in Orlando was Dr. James R. Smith? He was an OB-GYN and delivered many babies who are adults today in the City of Orlando.

And the late Dr. Tom Scott, who delivered over 10,000 babies in Orange County.

Have you noticed the write-ups about your colleagues in various local publications?

Physician leadership is evident throughout our community. OCMS is again nominating Dr. Hank Greenberg, 2005 OCMS President, who is again running for a seat on the FMA Board of Governors for District D.

Dr. Patrick Hennessey is written up in the Florida Doctor Magazine and comments on Electronic Medical Records. Dr. Joseph Portoghese is on the cover of this month's Florida Doctor magazine for his influential leadership in training the next generation of health care providers as the Chief Academic Officer at Florida Hospital. Orange County Medical Society is a key group to help influence the next generation of physician leaders in our community.

We want to reach out to all the next generation of physician leaders in Central Florida. Together we can do more to reach the residents in training and medical students in our large community who need to join with organized medicine for their careers and their future. This is an opportunity for us all to mentor the next generation of medical leaders for Central Florida. Invite your colleagues, residents and medical students to join us in OCMS today.

Together with the next generation of young doctors, we can create the OCMS of tomorrow!
